As I look back at the Mimosa Hills fiscal year that ended on September 30, I am amazed at how quickly it seems to have gone. We have gone through a lot of ups and downs but in the whole, things are looking better for the new year.

We ended the year with a small profit and were able to trim our payables to a manageable level. The steps taken in late summer to trim costs have paid off and we are off to a better start in year 2017-18 working with a more conservative budget.

Our hours will remain the same over the winter for the pro-shop and food and beverage with the possibility of opening on Friday nights for the food and beverage.

The tournaments in September and October have helped our cash flow significantly. I would like to thank the pro shop and course maintenance for jobs well done during this busy time.

I invite all members to utilize your pro shop for gift purchases this season and to feast and dine in your dining facilities. Without the support of our members in these two critical areas we will not be or become the Club I know you want Mimosa Hills Golf Club to be.

Happy Holidays!

See you on the course,
Flo Carter

Brenda Cantrell heading out to walk a few holes.

Many thanks to members Bill and Adam Beuttell and their crew for the great job they did adding sand to our bunkers. They hauled, spread, compacted and raked about 367 tons of sand in a weeks time. Their efforts were instrumental in saving us monies to accomplish our goals for the Mimosa Hills Preservation Club bunker project. The bunkers play very consistent now and they look great! They especially play well after heavy rains, which previously was not the case. This month we will add some more sand to areas that wash out during heavy rains. That work will be done in house but still part of the Preservation Club project. I and the committee will be meeting this month to review where we stand and what to accomplish on this year's goals and begin talks for planning for next years efforts. Thank you to all the supporters! Looking at holes 11 & 12 and now the bunker sand is inspiring!

As you can imagine, November brings us a challenge in keeping the golf course clean from falling leaves. Bear with us and on some breezy days it is virtually impossible to keep up. Sometimes folks do not realize how much maintenance trees can add to a property. Not just with leaf fall but fallen sticks, branches, acorns, especially after a storm. The clean up is noticeably less on holes 11 & 12 after the tree trimming and removal.

It is that time of year to switch to the artificial turf on the driving range tee. The tee top is ready for some rest. We need to allow it to heal up some before the frost sends the bermudagrass into dormancy. I cannot stress enough what a great additive the artificial turf run was for our practice facility. Folks that were here prior to the addition should remember that by the end of winter there was absolutely not hardly a blade of grass left and as play began to pick up in the spring everyone was hitting off of sand. It was awful.

Despite battling some leaves, November is a great month for quality golf at Mimosa Hills. The greens are at their best as the root system keeps rebuilding after summer decline. Low humidity days can get them very quick, so be careful. Please make an extra effort to locate your ball marks on the greens. This can be challenging with the fallen leaves.

Although the Collegiate and G-Pro Tour events add some traffic to the golf course, I am always impressed at how well they fix their ball marks and rake their bunkers. Not trying to be a constant nag but I wish our members and guests did as well. Un-repaired ball marks and non-raked bunker makes for poor playing conditions, unsightliness and adds unnecessary expenses to the entire picture. Please make an effort to improve on this and pass on friendly reminders when you see others forgetting to do their duty as a golfer should.
